GENERAL NOTES.

Mary Anderson is computed to be worth $50,000, which is said to be safely invested in real estate, gas stocks, and railway shares, both n England and America. A small portion of it is in American bond. She expects to clear this year $150,000. But our Mary is not so rich as her sister professional, Lota, who, as a rule, lives frugally, and is eminently business-like. She claims to be, and probably is, the wealthiest woman on the stage. Her dollars are estimated as totalling.

According to a census taken in September, 1881, the number of hands employed by Mr. Krupp was 19,606, the members of their amilie 45.776, making 65 381 persons supported by his works. Mr. Krupp owns 547 iron mines in Germany. He owns four sea steamers, and there are connected with his Essen works 42 miles of railway, employing 28 locomotives and 838 cars, 69 horses with 191 wagons, and 40 miles of telegraph wires, with 35 stations and 55 Morse apparatuses.

The sequal The Sequel

A Detroit Free Press correspondent writing from Bsy City, April 7, says; Ramsey Gregory, a well-known young man of this city, was shot dead in front of his parents home on Fifth avenue one week ago to-night. Circumstance pointed strongly to the theory that he had been murdered by a men who had just stolen a harness from Gregory's larn. The citizens became aroused and offer d a reward conviction of the nurderer. No further clue was obtained aside from foot-prints leading the theory of suicide and has worked out a perfect chain of evidence, that conclusively proves that Gregory shot himself. The foot-prints were exactly flitted by the shoes that famey wore on the night of the tragedy. His revoiver has been found and the cartridges that fitted it. His motive in taking bis own life has been accounted for and everything is satisfactorily explained. Cannibalism. A dory with two men living and two men dead on board drifted ashore at Guyon Island, Gabarus, Cape Breton a few days ago. They had been out eight days from their vessel, which was left on the western part of Grano Bank. The names of the living are Chisholm and McCracken, and the dead men were both named McDonald, all of them of Cape Breton. One of the dead bodies was considerably mangled about the throat and arms, which is said to have been done by the others upon woing o have been done by the others upon going to have been done by the others upon going mad.

After four days out one succumbed through thirst, and on the 7th day another, who had become insane, died. On the eighth day the survivors landed at Guyon teland, where they were kindly cared for by the keeper of the lighthouse, who sent them there. The body of the man who died first is greatly lacerated. One of the arms is cut off at the chow, the throat is much torn, and pieces are cut out of each thigh. This was done after the man's death by the other man who died, in order to obtain food and drink.

On Thursday evening James McDonald died. The body of the dead man had hardly grown cold when Angus McDonald said he must have something to eat and drink or he would die also. Despite the protestations of Chisholm and McCraccen, he took a kul c and cut the right arm off the dead man, sucking the blood and decouring the tesh. He offered some to the others but they retured it, though some hours later Chisholm tasted a piece, but was unable to swallow it, McDonald having suched all. the blood from the evered arm. Angus McDonald said he was going to cut the throat of the dead man but was for a time restrained from doing so. During Friday night. Angus McDonald said he was going to cut the threated the dead man but was for a time re strained from doing so. During Friday night, however, while the other two were sleeping, he committed the act, and finding no blood cut a piece of fless from each thigh, drinking the blood and cating a portion of the resh. On the following day he became delirious, and before night he died.

Hundreds of lives have been lost, and the amount of property destroy is estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. The mayor of Montgomery, Ala., sent the following telegram to Senators Fugh and Morgan on the 5th inst: "Loss of lite anal property from floods in the vicinity appailing. Resulting destitution will be wide-spread. It seems every river in Alabama will have the same record. Cannot government sid be involved for the sufferers, who are mostly the poorest people?"

The latest instance of threatened boycotting is said to be given in an anonymous letter received by the wife of Gen. Logan. Mrs. Logan is one of the ladies interested in the Gardield Memorial Hospital, for the benefit of which it is proposed to give the called tall at the Chinese legation building. The writer warms her that if she goes under the roof of the Chinese Minister it will be an indication that she sym-pathizes with the Chinese immigration, and the laboring men of the country will in con-sequence boycott Gen. Logan in his political aspirations.
